ARTICLE: THE UFO RELATED PARA-ANTHROPOIDS
AUTHOR: DON WORLEY

A comosit description of the Kokomo-Darke para-anthropids. Huge chest and arms. Body and head covered with sandy or reddish brown hair the length of a collie dog with a bushed look. Lower extremeties long and fashioned for speed. Large head with short neck nearly as wide as the head. A flat face except for overhanging brow and wide nose. Hair covered the mouth area. Eyes larger than an apes with a red cast and no opening in the iris of the eye.

—The early 1970s have seen a completely unbelievable creature appear in increasing numbers in our country. A different kind of Bigfoot has appeared on the scene.

THE UFO RELATED PARA-ANTHROPOIDS

By Don Worley

At a lake near Kokomo Indiana, a large gorilla-like creature came up behind an unsuspecting fisherman and placed its hand gently on his shoulder. In Darke County Ohio a similar creature intently watched three farm children as they played in the edge of a cornfield. These incidents were not some kind of prank. They may be more important to you than you realize.

This new element in the complex unfathomable UFO enigma is ape like in appearance yet it seems to possess human-like intelligence, and is curious concerning earthlings. Most startling of all, it seems to exist on the edge of reality, and appears to be directly associated with glowing aerial objects. Unless you have access to certain sources of research information you cannot have learned about the Western Sasquatch commonly called Big Foot is only the tip of the iceberg relatively speaking. For the purpose of clarity I will by-pass these apparently more stable wilderness types, and scrutinize only those strange creatures who appear for a limited period of time in populated rural and residential areas where flesh and blood animals comprehendable to us, could not long escape capture or death. During periods of increased UFO activity in recent years these large hairy entities have appeared in California, Oregon, Washington, Wyoming, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Florida. It is in Pennsylvania that a major infestation seems to have occurred. Researcher Stan Gordon and his group of investigators, aided by law enforcement agencies and the news media, have managed to effectively keep up with all that has happened there. Gordon's group acts as a nationwide clearing house for this type of report, and in a recent phone conversation with me he said they were nearly overwhelmed with reports. It is possible that there are many encounters or even pockets of infestation in other states with their silent bewildered witnesses who have learned that neither the local sheriff or their best friends can believe what they witnessed. In Pennsylvania 118 incidents with 245 eyewitnesses occured between June 1973 and February 1974. Many were close encounters with 30 happening in daylight and 27 at dusk. The creatures have been fired on without effect. In one instance two creatures made sounds like a baby crying and a sulphur odor was present. When fired at one creature threw up its hand and a 100 foot bright white domed object in the field with them disappeared instantly. The blast of 16 guage shotgun from 6 feet away only cause a creature to vanish in a flash of light in another encounter. In another instance a creature was reported to have been seen carrying a glowing ball in its hand. In another 3 creatures were seen to emerge from a landed UFO and run into a woods. I have mentioned these few facts so that you may reorient your thinking about the full scope of this developing mystery.

Jim Mays stands at the spot where he was sitting down fishing. Camera is located where creature first stood.

Early in Oct. 1973 UFO sightings were on the increase in Indiana. Jim Mays of Kokomo sat fishing at a lake called The Pits northwest of Kokomo. He had the feeling something was watching him and turned to see a large figure about 20 feet behind him in the woods. He could not see clearly due to the evening twilight and the darkness of the woods. Assuming it was a person even though it looked something like an ape that could not be there, he asked what it wanted. The form moved away. About 5 or 10 minutes later he felt something lightly touch his shoulder. What followed was a quick glance by Jim at the hairy hand on his shoulder, a stunned eyeball to knee look, and a glance upward at the face of the towering specter. The creature took one big step, then in a strange leaping run fled the scene. Big six foot two inch 230 pound Jim leaped to his feet, and yelled "What the hell is going on here!" He then ran after the creature keeping it in sight from a safe distance. As he reached the road he heard the slap of the creatures feet on the blacktop. It paused and looked disappeared. Soon from within a woods west of the bridge, a glowing bronze light source ascended into the sky. It seemed almost instantaneous to Jim since it shot up and faded away so quickly. An uneasy Jim with a bayonet stuck in his belt, returned to the scene a few days later aerial light followed them first in the south and then west of them when they turned north. It disappeared suddenly down the road from the bridge. The creature was spotted at the edge of the woods west of the bridge. It was illuminated by two flashlight beams as it stood in weeds about waist high some 30 feet distant. Later the creature's height was estimated as at least eight feet by comparing the weed height to a human. Fear overcame two of the witnesses and they sought safety in the car. Questions and a few curse words were yelled at the creature. A few few rocks were hurled without any apparent effect.

The iron bridge near Galveston over which the creature ran in a strange leaping fashion.

The witnesses could not tell whether the rocks missed, hit and bounced off, or went through the creature. The giant sandy colored entity seemed transfixed in this position, and did not move. Strangely, the light beams seemed weaker in illuminating the great form, and seemed not to illuminate its surroundings. A car approaching on the road made it necessary for the witnesses to move their car. When they returned the creature was gone.

On July 10, 1975 a para-anthropoid appeared not far from home on a dairy farm in Darke County Ohio. It was still bright daylight on a beautiful evening as Tim Hurst and Emily Turner, ages 10, played in the edge of the cornfield east of the barn. A short distance away they discovered a reddish-brown haired ape like figure watching them. It was leaning over in the six foot tall corn and they could not see its body below the midsection. It had a flat face except for overhanging brows, dark brown skin on its cheeks and forehead, and a nose that seemed human although wide. The surprised witnesses looked for maybe five seconds then ran to tell Donna Miller, age 12, who was some distance away. She didn't believe them so they followed her as she ran back to see what they were talking about. A surprised Donna came to a sudden stop when the creature's face suddenly loomed up before her in the tops of the corn. She was later to constantly tell her mother about its eyes which she said were a pupil-less reddish yellow and almost glowed. Tim noticed red-yellow veins in them. The two parties stood there 15 feet apart for a brief interval before the amazed children broke and ran for the barn to tell Donna's father. He was busy milking and didn't listen to them. They ran back out and got up on the roof of a shed which had another roof they could hide behind. From this vantage point they could still see the creature some 50 yards distant. The giant biped suddenly fled across the cornfield at a very fast speed and disappeared over the hill in the direction of the woods. The parents decided the excited children must have seen a bear. Two days later little towheaded Tim was out playing with his football. It bounced away from and onto a cement cattle run near the barn. As he was picking it up he looked up to see the creature watching him from the window of the old hog shed some 25 yards away. It was just squatting there and its knees were up even with its head. It filled the entire window of the hog shed. Tim immediately rushed to get his mother, but the creature was gone when they returned.

The huge entity stood here in the weeds up to its waist and 5 witnesses observed it in the second incident.

On this same farm in 1966 strange things began to happen after a neighbor watched a glowing object descend beyond their barn. The Miller family began to hear snapping and pounding sounds. Mrs. Miller looked out an open door as a tall indistinct ghostly form moved slowly by. The dogs hid in the garage and could not be pulled out. As visitors were leaving a loud pounding was heard as something unseen ran out across a nearby weed field. It smashed into a manure spreader hidden by the weeds. Strangely no blood remained behind after this loud collision. It is also interesting to note that on the Green farm, 20 miles away, near Waterloo Indiana something also returned after an absence of years. In 1966 the Greens watched an object resembling the sun cut in half as it hovered over their cornfield. Later they heard the nightly sound of a baby crying which is one of the sounds emitted by a para-anthropoid. In 1975 Mr. Green watched a red light about 75 yards away in his soybean field. As he watched a large upright form, illuminated by his dusk to dawn light, moved toward the red light in a forward swaying manner. The red light became a brilliant white then vanished as did the form. The next day the farmer found a 30 foot circle of shrivled soybeans in his field. What is the explanation of this event. It is possible this man witnessed the exit of a para-anthropoid from our environment?

Soybean plants from the Green farm. On the bottom shrivled plants from circle where light appeared. On top full grown plant from outside circle.

When one of these hairy critters appears one can never know how long it will be around or its degree of manifestation. In a case still under investigation by me near Sharpsville Indiana, the creature managed to remove the window screen frame of a home containing two terror stricken women. This one emitted the foul odor sometimes present in these cases. In a case not investigated by me near Roachdale in 1972, its stay lasted over three weeks. At least 36 persons claimed encounters with it. This was on of the more violent cases reported. However let me hasten to state that thus far not one instance of harm to a human has ever been reported. There have been numerous opportunities for this to happen. The creature near Kokomo could easily have throttled the fisherman. The creature in Darke County could easily have snatched up and carried off the two little farm children. Instead only curiosity or retreat in the face of human reaction is evident. In only a minor percentage of cases has the creature acted in a threatening manner.

What are these creatures and why are they here? Who can say, but may I be permitted some pure speculation and theorizing. These creatures thus far appear to be something different than those called Sasquatch or Yeti. We do know the para-anthropoids are directly related to UFOs and seem to be paranormal in nature. One line of thinking may be that they are out of dimensiinal time mistakes intruding into our present existance in the stream of time. I do not theorize this way.

Rather could it be that they are deliberate manipulations of the cunning intelligence behind UFOs. Programed or remotely controlled intelligent bio-etheric mutants created to test personal, social, and governmental military reactions by planet earth's usually violent aboriginals. What ever the answer is, they are staying longer, returning, and coming closer than ever before. It is important that we gather all the data possible on this new development in the mystery of Unidentified Flying Objects and their related phenomena. It is that related phenomena, in its strnage non-physical forms, and their closer approach to us, that may yeild vital information on what we face.
